Lingoda Launches Exciting "Back to School" Language Learning Campaign

The language learning platform will offer up to 25% off on their monthly subscription

MIAMI, August 16, 2023 - Lingoda, the leading online language learning platform, is thrilled to announce the launch of its highly anticipated "Back to School" campaign, aimed at providing language learners with a dynamic and immersive language learning experience. As the academic season kicks off, Lingoda is committed to helping learners achieve their language goals with engaging content and innovative features.

The "Back to School" campaign offers a range of exciting benefits designed to enhance the language learning journey:

1. Flexible Learning Options: Lingoda understands the demands of a busy life. With flexible class timings and on-demand lessons, students can easily fit language learning into their daily routines.
2. Interactive Lessons: Our classes focus on human interaction and maximum conversation time. Led by native-level teachers, each class has a maximum of five students, giving everyone plenty of opportunities to speak. This also allows them to receive individual attention and personalized feedback. Each lesson centers on a different element of speaking, reading, grammar and vocabulary.
3. Certified Teachers: Lingoda's team of certified, native-speaking teachers bring their expertise and cultural insights into every lesson, ensuring an authentic and comprehensive learning experience. Students will take lessons with a range of teachers, allowing them to experience a variety of accents and speaking styles, while meeting students from all over the world.
4. Personalized Learning Paths: Lingoda's expertly designed courses mean students won't sacrifice educational quality for convenience. The platform provides personalized learning paths, catering to each student's unique learning style and pace. This ensures that students stay motivated and make consistent progress.
5. Exclusive Promotions: To celebrate the launch of the campaign, Lingoda is offering exclusive promotions, including discounts and special offers, making it even more accessible for students to embark on their language learning journey.

With the code LANGUAGEWIN, new learners on the platform can receive 15% off of 12 classes/month subscription, 20% off of 20 classes/month subscription, and 25% off of 40 classes/month subscription. The code is valid for both group and private classes.

"We’re excited to kick off our ‘Back to School’ campaign and support learners as they dive into the world of language learning," said Philippa Wentzel, Curriculum Team Lead at Lingoda. "For many of us, the back-to-school season can be the perfect time to renew resolutions and get back into learning mode after the summer - whatever stage of life we’re at. We believe that mastering a new language opens up a world of opportunities and enriches learners’ personal, academic and professional experiences. Our platform offers a dynamic and flexible approach to learning that’s designed to boost your confidence in real world communication from your very first lesson."

Lingoda's "Back to School" campaign comes at a time when language proficiency is increasingly valuable in a globalized world. Whether students are looking to excel in their studies, boost their career prospects, or simply explore new cultures, Lingoda provides the tools and resources to achieve these goals.
